NORWAY OFFERS SHIPS TO AVOID STARVATION

Will Release 1,000,000 Tons For Private Importing Food From U.S.

Washington, D. C., Aug. 2.—Norway, facing starvation if the United States cut off exports of food, is ready to release a million tons of her shipping in return for the privilege of importing food—principally from the United States.

Dr. Fridtjof, head of the Norwegian mission to the United States, declared here today unreservedly that Norway faced starvation if the United States enforced an export embargo against her.

Dr. Nansen compared possible conditions with those existing during the Napoleonic wars, when the Danish fleet was taken by the English, and Norway was forced to side with France. He did not in any way intimate that Norway would be compelled to abandon her neutrality, but said she would maintain her present position, as Norwegians can see no possible benefit to anyone if they should take active sides.

Anxious to maintain their place in the world as a seafaring nation, a common carrier of world commerce and in order to get foodstuffs for themselves and keep their maritime flag afloat, he said, they were willing to barter ships for food.

Norway, before the war, had 3,000,000 tons of shipping; the Germans have destroyed 1,000,000; Norway now needs 1,000,000 for her own wants, and is willing to devote the remainder to the carrying needs of other countries.

What Norway needs now are fats, sugar and grain, and, as Dr. Nansen expressed it, that Norway would give a guarantee that none of these things would be sent to Germany goes without saying.

U. S. DETERMINED TO FIGHT UNTIL VICTORY COMES

No Thought of Making Move in Direction Of Peace Overtures

It was learned today that while the United States Government and Entente Powers would consider a sincere and practical peace offer from any one of the four Central Power Governments, this Government will not be misled into giving consideration to insincere proposals, and deprecates peace talk not based on practical lines.

The United States is not thinking of making a move in the direction of peace. The higher officials of the Government believe that any step in this direction would be misunderstood in Germany and would do more harm than good. As a matter of fact, in none of the pronouncements of German or Austrian statesmen have American officials found anything that warrants them in regarding the feelers that have been put out by Berlin and Vienna as being genuine, sincere or practical.

The United States Government is going ahead steadily with its plans for winning the war, and officials here, from President Wilson down, are concerning themselves chiefly with the defeat of Germany. Meanwhile official Washington is opposed to the official discussion of peace. One reason is the fact that Germany has charged that the United States is a money-grabbing, commercial nation, helpless to conduct successfully the war, and for the United States at this time to start a discussion of peace before it has had time to demonstrate that it is a nation willing to fight for democratic ideals would be misinterpreted in Germany as a confession of weakness and lack of will to carry through the war.

RESTLESS LABOR INVITING WRATH

Government Will Take Drastic Action If Disturbance in West Do Not Cease

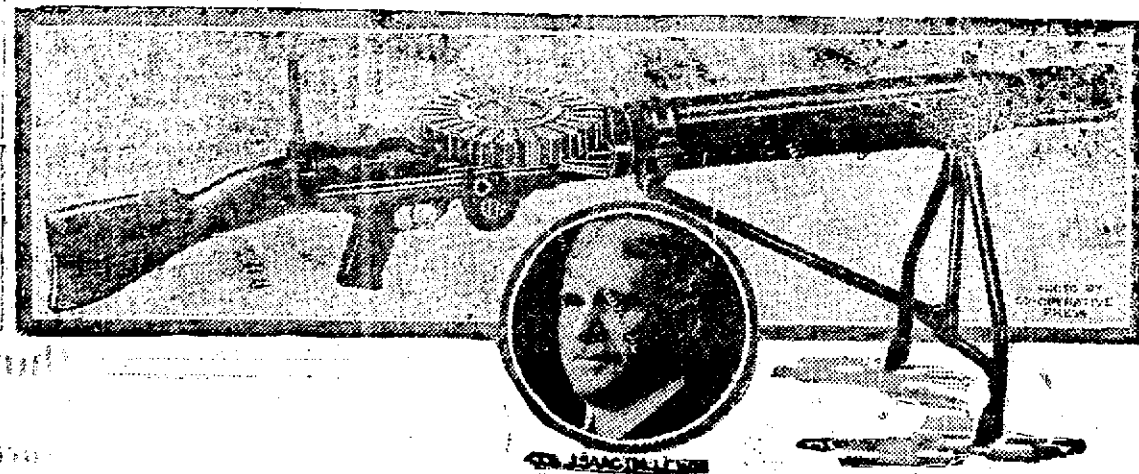

Washington, D. C., Aug. 2.—Drastic action by the Government to meet the labor disturbances in the West and Southwest, which officials are sure have been stirred up by German propaganda, will be taken if the situation shows any growth.

Intention of Government to call out the United States Army should the Government not intervene on behalf of the Industrial Workers of the World in labor disputes in certain sections of the West have resulted in the Department of Justice undertaking a broad general inquiry.

The inquiry has not yet reached the stage where definite action has been formulated, but officials assert that nothing possible will be left undone to prevent the tie-up of industries deemed vital in the conduct of the war.

Thousand of These Being Built For American Troops In France

Thousands of these rapid-fire guns invented by Colonel Lewis have been ordered by the war department for use of the American troops in France. For years Colonel Lewis has been trying to convince ordnance authorities in Washington his gun was the best made, but not until the British and French armies used them could he convince Americans. Now they will form the chief weapon of attack and defense for the Americans in the trenches.

Goebel Suffered Great Pain Which Availed Him Nothing Toward Recovery

There are scores of residents of Erie who are familiar with the condition of Louis Goebel the well known carpenter and all have sympathized sincerely with him in his sufferings. Mr. Goebel exhibited an ugly cross-like scar on the outer surface of his abdomen.

"That is what he surgeons did for me. I as in the hospital for three months. They thought I had gall stones in my bladder, and I was told that the inflammation substances had overflowed to my stomach. They operated on me. Yes sir, cut me open, and after all of that suffering I had no results from the operation."

"I have been unable to work for a long time. Nearly everybody who knows me knows that I am telling the gospel truth. Yes sir, this Tanlac has done what the knife couldn't do for me. I have eased one single bottle of Tanlac and I feel like a new man. I am improving every day, getting my strength back. I expect to continue taking this Tanlac and I'm going back to work soon. This Tanlac has done more for me than everything else combined, and I have taken, I guess, barrels of medicine. It's certainly like a miracle."

Tanlac is now old here by Woodward & McPherson.

Mrs. Katherine Lanions, Widow of John Lanions died of paralysis after an illness of 18 months. She was almost entirely helpless and her sufferings were great yet she endured them with Christian patience and hope of a better world.

She was born June 9, 1845 and died August 2, 1917 at 6:00 p. m. aged 72 years and 23 days. After her husband's death, she made her home with her daughter Mrs. Harry Couder, of Clearfield. Mrs. Couder also preceded her to the grave about 2 years and 2 months. She leaves to mourn one sister, Mrs. Maggie Murr, of Lancaster, Pa., one brother George Erb, of Strasburg, Pa., a son in law Harry Couder and the following grand children: Chester, Veryl, Ethel, Bernard and Luther Couder, all of Clearfield. The deceased was a consistent member of the Eleventh Street M. E. church and was a highly respected Christian woman. There will be a short funeral service held at the home of Harry Couder on Daisy street at 8:00 o'clock this evening, conducted by Rev. B. J. Hummel in the absence of her pastor, Rev. Collins. The body will be taken to Strasburg, Lancaster county, her former home community, where the regular funeral service will be held, and interment made by the side of her husband. The funeral party will leave on the 8:15 train tomorrow morning.

LETTER ENDORSING DR. M. BONE EUROPEAN EYE SPECIALIST

Grampian Pa. August 1, 1917

To Whom It May Concern: I have been suffering nervous headaches eye trouble and was a complete wreck and I had been wearing glasses for sixteen years before last February when I consulted Dr. Bone, and got glasses from him.

It was a miracle to me when Dr. Bone told me that I would get my strength and health and weight in three months and, in three months after I began to wear my glasses, I felt better every day. My eye trouble, nervousness and headaches are all gone and I have gained 35 pounds up to this date and am in perfect health again.

My neighbors have purchased glasses of Dr. Bone and they are all boasting of their glasses.

Yours truly, (Signed) Mrs. William Norris.

N. B. Dr. Bone will be at the Allegheny House all day Saturday, Room 7.

TWO WINBURNE MEN AT OFFICER'S RESERVE

John Banzer and Roy Collins, of Winburne, took the examination for the Officer's Reserve Training camp last Tuesday, and both were admitted. They are both married the former having one child. They expect to go into training August 27th. Mr. Banzer has served a term in the U. S. Marines, while Mr. Collins has served a term in the U. S. Cavalry. They both enjoy being under Uncle Sam's service. They are industrious young men and have the best wishes of their many friends.

FORMER WOODLAND GIRL DEAD

Wilma Ross Gance, nee Wilma Ross, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Ross of Ambridge, Pa., and formerly of Woodland, died at 9 a. m. on Wednesday night. According to telephone advice reaching relatives here the body will be brought to Woodland on the 5:30 P. R. R. train this evening and burial will be immediately made in the Bradford cemetery.

Before the opening of the season the Browns were picked to cut fancies in the American league race, while the Cardinals were banished to the National league cave.

KAISER BILL

He is dreaming, only dreaming. Tell old Kaiser Bill for me. If he thinks his Uncle Sammy isn't coming over the sea.

We are coming; yes, we're coming. With Jack Pershing in command: We'll show the Kaiser, who is crazy. That no "bull" from him we'll stand.

You started, Bill, this ruthless warfare—The worst the world has ever seen—You've made war on wife and children, Sinking boats with your submarine.

You used to shower us with glory, But now the glory's turned to hate; When we recall the things you've done us, Upon the nerves they grind and grate.

Oh, Kaiser Bill, oh, how I hate you—You will wake some day to tell That the things you've planned and plotted Have every one been shot to hell.

You are just a poor, weak monarch; Take an old fool's tip from me—The world you started out to conquer Is larger than your Germany.

When your submarine war is ended—Take an old fool's tip from me—The world you started out to conquer Is larger than your Germany.

You will see Old Glory waving From the trenches, Kaiser Bill, Just as when I years it floated Over Valley Forge and Bunker Hill.

When the Liberty Bell rings freedom And the whole world starts to shout, Oh, Kaiser Bill, you've cut your fill—We're here to surely count you out.

Honest, Willie, I'm not fooling—This is all I'm going to say: You had better cut your shoestrings And be on your little way.

HAD A NARROW ESCAPE

Mail carrier David Whaling and Contractor Ashley Rishel had a close call at the Nichols street crossing of the B. R. & P. railroad early this morning. They were coming over to town in Mr. Whaling's car and as the morning was quite foggy failed to see a New York Central coal train attempting to negotiate the crossing at the time they arrived there. The machine as squarely on the track when the nose of the engine appeared suddenly out of the fog not more than six feet distant. It was too late to back up and Mr. Whaling threw his wide open and the car leaped from the track just as the pilot of the engine grazed the tire on the rear wheel.

There have been several recent narrow escapes at this crossing and now that the New York Central is diverting so much extra tonnage this way since annulling the regular passenger service from the River Line it would be well to have gates and watchmen placed at both the Nichols and West Market street railroad crossings. Action in this matter should be taken before some person meets with serious accident or possibly death.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred B. Kerr and family have returned from a delightful two weeks' vacation spent at Washington, D. C., New York and Atlantic City.

Fort Smith, Ark., Aug. 3.—A mob in Saltsan, Okla., made an unsuccessful attempt last night to wreck the steel bridge of the Missouri-Pacific railroad over the Illinois river.

Lemons Beautify!

Strain lemon juice well before mixing and massage face, neck, arms, hands.

Here is told how to prepare an inexpensive lemon lotion which can be used to bring to any skin the sweet freshness, softness, whiteness and beauty.

The juice of two fresh lemons strained into a bottle containing three ounces of orchard white makes a whole quart pint of the most remarkable lemon skin beautifier at the cost one must pay for a small jar of ordinary cold creams. Care should be taken to strain the lemon pulp through a fine cloth so no lemon pulp gets in, then this lotion will keep fresh for months. Every woman knows that lemon juice is used to bleach and remove such blemishes as freckles, sallowness and tan, and is the ideal skin softener, smoothen and beautifier.

Just try it! Get three ounces of orchard white at any pharmacy and two lemons from the grocer and make up a quart pint of this sweetly fragrant lemon lotion and massage it daily into the face, neck, arms and hands, and see for yourself.

SUNDAY SCHOOL

Lesson VI.—Third Quarter, For Aug. 5, 1917.

THE INTERNATIONAL SERIES.

Text of the Lesson, II Chron. xxxiii, 1-20—Memory Verses, 12, 13—Golden Text, Isa. lv, 7—Commentary Prepared by Rev. D. M. Stearns.

There are so many things in the affairs of this world which we cannot understand that we can only find rest in remembering that the Lord liveth, and He is not discouraged, and He shall finally subdue all things unto Himself. It therefore becomes us to rest in the Lord and wait patiently for Him (Isa. xlii, 4; Rev. xvii, 14; Ps. cxviii, 7; Phil. iii, 10, 21). That Ahaz should be such a wicked king, Hezekiah, his son, such a good king and Manasseh, his son, such a monster of iniquity is surely a strange sequence of events which I certainly do not profess to begin to understand, but I rest in Him who foresees and overrules all things. There is something worthy of prayerful consideration in the fact that Hezekiah had fifteen years added to his life after his serious illness (Isa. xxxviii, 5), but did not render to God for this extension of time as he should have done (II Chron. xxxii, 25).

Manasseh must have been born about three years after that illness, as he was twelve years old when he began to reign (xxviii, 1), and the question presents itself, Was it a great blessing to Hezekiah to have his life thus prolonged? When we are determined to have our own way God sometimes indulges us, even though He knows it is not the best thing for us, as when He gave Israel their request, but sent leanness into their soul (Ps. cix, 15). Another once told me that when her two boys were very young they were sick unto death, but she would not give them up, and God let them live. But they grew up to give her a broken heart. Whole hearted submission to the perfect will of God is the better way. Contrast the Lord Jesus at the age of twelve about His Father's business and returning to the lowly home at Nazareth, there to be subject to Mary for the next eighteen years (Luke ii, 42-52).

Manasseh's reign was the longest of any of the kings of Judah, fifty-five years, and part of it was the very worst, according to the record in lesson verses 8-10. He wrought much evil in the sight of the Lord and caused Judah and Jerusalem to err and to do worse than the heathen whom the Lord had destroyed before the children of Israel, and though the Lord spake to him and to his people, they would not hearken (verses 2, 6, 9, 10). He was surely controlled by the devil during that part of his reign.

The Lord permitted the kings of Assyria to take him and bind him and carry him to Babylon and there in his affliction he humbled himself greatly before God and prayed unto Him, and God heard him and brought him again to Jerusalem and to his kingdom. Then he knew that Jehovah was God (verses 11-13). In the Apocrypha there is a prayer recorded as his, part of which is: "Thou, O Lord, according to Thy great goodness, hast promised repentance and forgiveness to them that have sinned against Thee. . . . I have sinned above the number of the sands of the sea; . . . I have set up abominations and have multiplied offenses. O Lord, I have sinned, and I acknowledge mine iniquities, wherefore, I humbly beseech Thee, forgive me, O Lord, forgive me, and destroy me not with mine iniquities."

Whatever his actual prayer was, God, who reads the heart, saw that he was sincere and abundantly pardoned him, according to Isa. lv, 7. Whatever encouragement there is in this and in the conversion of Saul of Tarsus and of the penitent thief for any and every sinner, however great, to turn to the Lord, for He came to save sinners, and His word ever stands: "Him that cometh to me I will in nowise cast out" (John vi, 37). He is not willing that any should perish and has no pleasure in the death of the wicked (II Pet. iii, 9; Ezek. xxxiii, 11). His cry to sinners is, Look unto me and be saved; incline your ear and come unto me, hear and your soul shall live. And to His own who have wandered He cries: O that they were wise, that they would consider their latter end! O that my people had hearkened unto me and Israel had walked in my ways! (Isa. xlv, 22; lv, 3; Deut. xxxii, 29; Ps. lxxxi, 13). When restored to Jerusalem and to his kingdom he endeavored to right some of the wrongs he had done and to bring forth fruits meet for repentance. He offered peace offerings and thank offerings unto the Lord and commanded Judah to serve the Lord God of Israel (verses 14-17).

Such a change in such a man must have impressed many and turned many to the Lord, but we shall see as we go on in our lessons that the turning of the people away from God was very desperate, and it was not long until Judah was carried into captivity for her sins. The turning away from God and His word to our day is as God foretold that it would be (II Tim. iii, 1-5; lv, 3; II Pet. iii, 3, 4; Luke xviii, 26-30). But He will build His church and take her to Himself and bring her back with Him in glory, and Israel shall then welcome Him and they shall never be unrighteous any more; but shall be a blessing to all nations, and the earth shall be filled with His glory through Israel. His chosen messengers, according to Ps. lxxv.

FAMOUS KILTIES SEEK RECRUITS IN THE BUSY STREETS OF CHICAGO

UNIQUE UNIFORMS IN THE UNITED STATES

Kilties from the Forty-eighth Highlanders, the Scotch Canadian regiment of Toronto, Ontario, which has earned enduring fame for its part in the war, are marching the streets of Chicago this week, as part of the drive for recruits for the Allied armies which has been organized and carried through by Colonel John S. Dennis, commanding the Western Division, British Recruiting Mission, with the cooperation of Captain Franklin R. Kenny, U. S. A., in charge of recruiting for the Chicago district.

Two hundred Highlanders with their regimental band and their pipers parade the streets every day, and the "skirl" of the pipes is heard above the din of the city and the traffic cop's whistle. It is only part of the program, however, to stir enthusiasm and bring recruits to the recruiting stations. The Forty-eighth Highlanders have been in the war from the very beginning, going overseas as the Fifteenth Canadian Battalion in the First Division, and fighting through St. Julien, Festubert, Courcellette, the Somme, and Vimy Ridge. Since the British Recruiting Mission opened western headquarters in Chicago, a number of Chicago men have joined this now famous regiment.

Britons and Canadians of military age resident in the United States are estimated by Colonel Dennis at 500,000. Until the British Mission was given permission by Congress to recruit in this country, it was necessary for a man to pay his own way to Canada for examination, with the chance of being rejected after he got there. More than 4,000 did go, but now a man may be examined and accepted at the nearest recruiting depot either of the United States army or of the British Mission, and his pay begins the day he "signs on."

was on the frontier, at Forts Sisseton, Lincoln, Russell, Custer and other military posts in Montana, Wyoming and the Dakotas. In 1890-91 he participated in the Pine Ridge campaign against the Sioux Indians.

Other subsequent duties included service in the Cuban campaign of 1898, in which he participated in the battle of El Caney, and was in the trenches before Santiago until the surrender. In 1899 he went to the Philippines, where he was engaged in active operations against insurgents in Luzon.

General Mann took part in engagements with the Filipino insurgents in the Island of Panay and the Island of Pombon. He was inspector general, department of Visayas, and supervisor of internal revenue and served as adjutant of the 17th infantry.

Returning to the United States he served at Fort Porter and Fort Niagara, N. Y., and conducted the department of infantry rifle competition in 1902. In 1903 he was again assigned to duty in the Philippines, where he served as chief of staff, department of the Visayas.

He was assistant chief of staff, division of the Philippines, and afterward went on duty at the war college in this city and at the naval war college at Newport. He was on duty in Havana, Cuba as assistant to the chief of staff of the expedition there in 1906, and was later chief of staff of the army of Cuban pacification. For a time he was in command of the 6th Infantry and the post of Fort William Henry Harrison, Mont. For many months prior to his appointment to his present post as chief of the bureau of military affairs was in command of the 2nd brigade on the Mexican border.

LITTLE SIDELIGHTS ON THE BIG WAR

Included in the Russian army is a division called the Corps de Chasseurs, of which little is known outside the service. They are picked men, chosen for various reasons, and include not only the men of best education but also the best runners, sharpshooters, fencers, swimmers, sappers, fishers and hunters. As pioneers, they build bridges across the broadest and fastest rivers of Russia. As hunters and fishermen, they provide the army with game and fish. They are under a strict and special discipline, but they are not obliged to march in line, are free from barrack service and are excused sentinel duty.

To Lester Cuneo is entrusted the important part of Donald, the son of the smuggler, Michael Smead. Mr. Cuneo has a great reputation for versatility. A stage career preceded the actor's advent into pictures.

Lillian Hayward is a favorite player. She was seen as Mrs. Themaine in "Big Tremaine."

Fred Wilson, the "Uncle Billy" of "Pidgin Island" is one of the best known men in motion pictures having played a long series of excellent parts.

"Pidgin Island" is replete with scenes of strength and interest in which these fascinating characters take part.

SOME COINCIDENCES

The late Gen. Pierre G. T. Beauregard has been let in for a little posthumous attention recently which brings to mind two episodes in his career. One of the commandments for the new national army has been given his name, thus recalling his activities as an officer on the Confederate armies. And the selective draft was made by a method which inevitably gave rise to reflections of the Louisiana Lottery, of which Gen. Beauregard was a high and highly-paid official during his later life.

RESULTS COUNT!

An Ounce of Performance Is Worth a Ton of Promise

Goldine Gives Results—Can You Doubt It After Reading the Following Statement?

Goldine Gives Results! That is what Mr. Perry Phillips, 422 Third Ave., Williamsport, thinks about the marvel medicine.

Mr. Phillips while recently at the Goldine agency said: "I came after two more bottles of that Goldine." It is the first medicine I ever found that does actually produce results. I have had stomach trouble for over two years, and have doctored and tried almost every medicine known, but this Goldine is the only thing that ever helped me.

"My catarrh was so bad that I had a constant ringing noise in my head, and was getting quiet deaf from it. I couldn't sleep at night, because when I would lay down the mucus would drop in my throat and choke me.

Goldine is working a miracle in my case. I felt benefited right from the first dose; it stopped that ringing noise in my head and my stomach is in good condition. Why I can eat a good meal without any had after effects. I am feeling better than I have in years.

"It is truly a great medicine and if any body doubts this statement just send them to me."

Goldine can be secured at Stewart's Drug store where they will be glad to explain for which each remedy is intended.

"Goldine" Memorize the name.

Fashion Hints By Margaret Mason

Though bullets and billets
First hold our attention
Still frocks frills and filets
Ooh! in for a mention

Lace, lace lace! This isn't an admonition to pull your corset strings unduly. It is simply a general description of the most paramount detail of feminine fixings at the present moment. Lace these days means only one kind of lace, too, and that's filet.

You know it's the kind with the square mesh like a modified Fane fence. It's all on the square anyway and has floral designs sprading over it like vines on a trellis or else as male caving over its cross bars like the June bug, and bird size mosquitos on our serried front porch.

The real home-steadiness of the filet is of course the hand-made kind, to acquire whose square meshed lengths crumple you in debt to great lengths.

Dainty edging of the hand-made filet finishes collars and cuffs of the most exquisite lingerie waists as well as the fingered frocks of Georgette, organdie or handkerchief linen and elaborate insets and insertion, narrow or wide, garnish them to their fill with filet.

Boudoir caps of the corner meshed imitation filet are most attractive and one made from a yard length of very wide all over filet edging is simple and seductive. The lace is seamed together and gathered at the apex. It has a crush of wide satin ribbon holding it in closely around the headsize. The ribbon is set on about two inches above the lacy edge which is left to flop softly around the face. The cap of cross-bar mesh is guaranteed to screen effectively a multitude of hair curlers.

Cuff and collar sets of real or imitation filet have all the fairest feminines around the throat and wrists. Indeed a collar of any other lace save filet is spurned with great choler.

Handkerchiefs of the mode and the moment are bordered with the finest and narrowest filet edge and veils though naturally not of the linen thread ape the filet lace in motive and mesh.

Though on the surface of things you would imagine all the filet was in full view judging from its prevalence there is also a great abundance under cover or at least partially so. It is most popular for lingerie garnishing and edges and trims wash satin, muslin, crepe de chine or Georgette chemises, nighties, petticoats and under-vests in impartial perfection.

That essential garment known mysteriously in Paris as a "cache corset" and equally mysteriously in London as a "car" we designate more seriously as a corset cover or an under-vest and by any name know it to be most lovely when made of all over filet lace and strung with shell pink satin ribbon.

Filet has even invaded the hearth and home as well as our personal apparel apertures, not only it is omnipresent richly encrusting table linen, lunch cloths, dinner cloths, luncheon sets and napkins but it has the guest towels, face towels and even the bath towels in its meshes.

Filet crochet done in insertion and edging is used for towel trimming and crochet filet squares showing an initial or a monogram are set in with stunning results. All the feminine hands got busily wielding knitting needles of amber or bone on socks and sweaters for sailors and soldiers are busily chaffing bone or steel crochet hooks through the meshes of filet mesh for bathroom embellishment.

I spreads of the filet lace squares in conjunction with embroidered ones have always been the last word in bedside perfection as have curtain and dresser and toilet-table scarfs and lingerie pillow tops. Some brave and undaunted souls are even turning out beautiful bedspreads of filet crochet. You can do the same if you don't care what you do and aren't a subscriber to the popular opinion that life is short and time is fleeting.

Even the children cannot escape the craze for filet and aside from the regulation filet edgings and insertions on their garments they attack the daily bowl of cereal from behind the brave front of an enveloping heavy linen bib inset with a square of filet crochet showing anything in the animal kingdom from a rampant tiger to a peaceful lambkin or a soft eyed mooly cow.

The men as yet have escaped the favorite filet but they had best beware or they will be snared within its squared mesh yet.

At least they as well as everyone are ready to concede that filet's fine for filices.

The significance of the insignia of rank on a clothing of United States officers has been explained as follows: The oak-leaf is worn by a captain and the poplar-leaf by a major because the poplar grows taller than the oak. The eagle signifies a colonel because the eagle soars above the poplar. The stars are for generals because the eagle looks toward the stars which shine over.

At least they as well as everyone are ready to concede that filet's fine for fillets.

The significance of the insignia of rank on the clothing of United States army officers has been explained as follows: The oak-leaf is worn by a captain and the poplar-leaf by a major because the poplar grows taller than the oak. The eagle signifies a colonel because the eagle soars above the poplar. The stars are for generals because the eagle looks toward the stars which shine over a

BANFF-WINDERMERE MOTOR ROAD IN CANADIAN PACIFIC ROCKIES

When Old Sol gets to work in deadly earnest, when the mercury mounts steadily, when the pavements radiate shimmering heat waves, when everything about life in the city seems to spell heat and discomfort—then those who are fortunate enough to possess the wherewithal to travel, begin to cast about for a refuge to which they may fly from summer's heat.

Ocean travel—except to the Orient—is practically out of the question, so the refuge must be found in America. Guide books and time tables are gathered and scanned. What place is there still unexplored that offers attractions? Canada? A drive into the attractive booklets that are issued by the railways brings to notice the magic names of Banff, Lake Louise, Yoho Valley, and memory recalls the wonderful Hudson Holmes pictures of these beautiful spots that were enjoyed last winter, as well as the enthusiastic praise of this and that friend who has visited the Canadian Pacific

FAVORITE OF FILM DOM

Pearl White

Pretty star who has won high place in the world of the movies.

Some Observations.

Beauty may be only skin deep, but a lot of fellows can't see through it. The reason so many people kill time is because time never puts up a roller. There isn't much to the fellow who doesn't get mad enough to fight once in a while.

To live a decent life is not all that is necessary; a man can be decent and not be particularly useful.

The bees have a way of dealing with the drones. When food gets scarce they kick them out of the hive.

The man who thinks he knows it all is always running into something that wasn't in the book when he studied it. Of all the foolish notions in the world the notion that you can avoid war by getting married is the foolish-

The great trouble with this world is that too many people are leaving it to somebody else to keep them out of trouble.

Better the fellow who brags about the kind deeds that he has done than the fellow who keeps his mouth shut because he has never done anything for anyone else to brag about.

Another "fade out" in the picture. A year - the Yankees were leading league.

"TIZ"—A JOY TO SORE, TIRED FEET

Use "Tiz" for aching, burning, swollen feet and corns or calluses.

Good-bye, sore feet, burning, swollen feet, tender feet, tired feet. Good-bye, corns, callouses, blisters and raw spots. No more limping, no more limping with pain, drawing up your face in agony. "Tiz" is magical, acts right off, draws out all the poisonous elements which puff up the feet. Use "Tiz" and wear smaller shoes. Use "Tiz" and forget your foot misery. Ah how comfortable your feet feel. Get a 25-cent box of "Tiz" now at any drugstore or department store. Don't suffer! Have good feet, glad feet, feet that never swell, never hurt, never get tired. A year's foot comfort guaranteed or money refunded.

Cannot Organize Ex-emption Board Until Member Accepts

J. Frank Snyder Received His Notice Of Appointment Yesterday But Has Declined To Serve On Board

DECLINATION MAY NOT BE ALLOWED

The work of selecting District No. 1's share of the new national army is at a standstill now, and the board or Messrs. Stewart and Dyer, the remaining members, don't know where they are at or when they are going to get somewhere.

Sheriff McCloskey was automatically dropped from the board by reason of his having been within the draft age limits and therefore disqualified for service. J. Frank Snyder was appointed to act in his place on Tuesday last but when the official notification of the appointment was communicated to Mr. Snyder yesterday afternoon by Sheriff McCloskey and Secretary Dyer of the Board, Mr. Snyder stated that he would decline to serve and all hope of reorganizing the board and signing and sending out the notices for examination had to be abandoned.

Messrs. Stewart and Dyer then got together and wired Col. Frank G. Sweeney at Harrisburg, of Mr. Snyder's action and stated that they could proceed no further under the circumstances and asked for advice in the matter.

The lists are prepared, the notices are in shape for mailing and all that is necessary now is to get a third member of the board, re-organize by the electing of a chairman, have the chairman and Secretary sign the cards and place same in the mails.

It is likely that Mr. Snyder will be obliged to serve on the exemption board under the ruling of Provost General Crowder to the effect that a person named for this service was drafted just as much as the man registered and subject to army duty under the terms of the conscription act, and no resignation would be accepted except in case of actual physical disability, being within the draft ages or service in the army or other branches of the federal government.

Col. Sweeney of the adjutant general's office at Harrisburg, has communicated these facts to Mr. Snyder and it may be that he will see his way clear to withdrawing his resignation, and the interrupted work of the draft be taken up tomorrow.

Edgar Westcott's Home Damaged By Fire

Household Goods Badly Damaged By Afternoon Blaze

The fire alarm sounded about 3:35 for a fire in District 22. The blaze was located in the dwelling owned by J. G. Lytle and occupied by Edgar Westcott on Walnut street, near Fourth.

The fire started in the kitchen, evidently from a defective flue and the flames soon enveloped the kitchen.

Mrs. Westcott was in the back yard when the flames broke out and her cries alarmed passersby. Grant Butler and his crew who were working at the Penn Public office building were quickly on hand and with a garden hose checked the fire until the firemen arrived, when the Elk Hose chemical line was utilized to good advantage.

Very little damage was done to the building but the household goods were pretty badly damaged by smoke.

Indictments Returned Against Birdseyes

Counsel Advises That His Clients Will Surrender to Authorities

(By United Press)
New York, Aug. 3.—Following a secret session of the New York county grand jury indictments charging grand larceny were returned today against Clarence Birdseye and son, Kellogg Birdseye and George T. National Guard Ceases To Exist In U. S. After Next Sabbath Day

On That Day Every Guard Unit in America Will Have Been Pressed Into The National Service

Washington, D. C., Aug. 3.—The National guard of all the states will cease to exist as such after next Sunday, when the last of the militiamen will be mustered into the American army. Already the militia organizations of the most of the states have been federalized, leaving the forces of only a few of the Western and southwestern states to be mustered in on August 5. Thereafter there will be no constitutional or other legal barrier to the transportation to the former guards' organizations to France.

So far as is known no steps will be taken by the different states to form new National guard regiments to take the place of those that have entered the national service. In some of the states elements are being discussed to form reserve battalions which will be stationed at regimental headquarters to care for the military property of the one, to fill gaps in the ranks of the drafted units and to perform each other military service as may be required.

Although no official statement has been issued in regard to the matter, the opinion prevails in military circles here that no time will be wasted in getting the former National Guardsmen to the war zone. Many of the former militia regiments are as thoroughly seasoned as the regular troops, with whom they shared in service on the Mexican border. It is expected that many of the infantry regiments will be turned into artillery units in Europe, as has been the case with the British and French troops.

The transfer of the state militia organizations to the Federal service has been an enormous task owing to the mass of necessary detail. Much of the credit for its successful accomplishment belongs to Brig. Gen. William A. Mann, whose official duties as chief of the division of militia affairs have kept him at his desk in the war department twelve hours a day or more during the past few weeks.

General Mann is a Pennsylvanian, and has filled his present important post since the death of General Albert L. Mills last year. He is an officer of wide experience, and was graduated from the United States Military academy in 1875, when he was appointed second lieutenant on the 11th infantry.

The Old Homestead Was A Wonderful Treat

Tonight a Member of The British Parliament Will Visit Us

The Old Homestead has come and gone again and has left nothing but the pleasantest of memories in the minds of those who visited it. We do not go to see The Old Homestead but rather to visit it and become a part of it. With the opening lines we like to go along with the old gentlemen and permit our minds to wander along the simple paths traveled by his, New England simplicity and absolute faith in humanity are the two things emphasized in the play and one cannot see it without becoming imbued with that spirit. The cast was elegant while the singing of the quartette was the best we have heard in a long while.

This afternoon Dr. Woods gave an excellent talk on Russia, its aims and possibilities. A tremendously large subject but splendidly handled and with that graphic description which brought the subject within the vision of his hearers. In addition there was a concert by the Philharmonic orchestra, an excellent organization, which will tonight give a concert immediately preceding the lecture of Percy Alden, member of the English Parliament who will speak on The Future of Europe. Alden speaks from first hand information. He is not a professional lecturer but a statesman, an emissary of the English government, sent out as a commissioner to talk to the American people.

ANOTHER SOLDIER TO WED

Danny Cupid, the irrepressible little God of Love, has succeeded in bowling over just one more devotee or follower of the War God Mars, according to the marriage license records in Recorder Ed. B. Chase's office.

The records show that Miss Amy Hughes, of Clearfield and Mess Sergeant A. E. Flack, of Pittsburgh, located here with Co. L of the Engleventh regiment, have not only plighted their troth but have taken out the proper legal permit entitling or empowering any regularly ordained minister to unite them in the holy bonds of matrimony.

Arrangements are now being perfected for the wedding ceremony which will be celebrated at the home of Mrs. Walter Abbott on Bridge street on Sunday afternoon.

Following the wedding and during the time the groom is in the army the bride will make her home with Sergeant Flack's parents at Pittsburgh.

CARD OF THANKS

Wesley Lansberry and son Clarence hereby return their sincere thanks to their friends and neighbors for the many kindnesses shown them during the illness and death of their beloved wife and mother. Competent Official Receives Promotion

James Pletcher Appointed Pennsylvania Freight Agent

James F. Pletcher, for the past fourteen years the efficient and highly accommodating Pennsylvania passenger agent at Clearfield, took charge of the freight interests of that company at this place this morning. Mr. Pletcher was advanced to the responsible position of freight agent to succeed George L. McCullough, who was recently promoted to the position of supervising freight agent for the Tyrone division of the Pennsylvania with headquarters at Tyrone.

Mr. Pletcher has been in the railroad service all his life and has made good in every position in which he has been placed. No company or corporation ever had a more loyal employee and that his excellent service is appreciated by his superiors is demonstrated by this handsome promotion.

Mr. Pletcher is one of our leading public-spirited citizens and takes a prominent part in every movement for the betterment of our town and business community. He is a member of the town council and for the past two years has occupied the responsible position of President of that body. He is particularly well qualified for his new job and we congratulate the Pennsy on his selection.

Ralph O. Woomer, who has been an employee of the Phillipsburg office of the Pennsy, succeeded Mr. Pletcher as passenger agent at Clearfield. Mr. Woomer comes to Clearfield highly recommended and will no doubt maintain the high standard of service at the local station.

John Schiele, who has been Mr. Pletcher's invaluable assistant here for the past two years, will succeed Mr. Woomer at Phillipsburg, while Chalmers Hyskell, of Madera, will come to Clearfield as Mr. Schiele's successor.

Returned From Several Days Today Indicate That Many Will Claim exemption in City District

PHYSICAL DISABILITY LARGE

(By United Press)
New York, Aug. 3.—More than 70 per cent. of the Americans called for the new national army examination to far claim exemption and physical disability was the most common reason for exemption. Most of the exemption claims were based on "dependents." Some districts, however, reported numerous freak appeals. The government will investigate every claim based on dependents.

In New York City 1,627 out of 415 men examined were physically unfit and are not subject to exemption. Seventy-five per cent. in Milwaukee want exemption. About 100 passed the physical test, however. Atlanta reports that 4 out of 7 men examined on dependents and 4 out of 5 men physically unfit. Eight out of 20 men examined in Boston were called "in" because of dependents. Of 20 men examined in a Denver district 17 passed. All claim exemption.

Of the first 400 examined in Pittsburgh 67 were accepted. Eighty were physically unfit and the rest wanted to be exempted. Philadelphia reports indicate that two-thirds of its object to war service. Of 382 called 214 were physically unfit. Four recruits were accepted. Cleveland reports that out of 750 examined 364 claimed exemption while 221 were physically unfit. Most of the 364 were married with children. In Washington, D. C., 72 per cent claim exemption.

Italy Approaching The Zenith Of Her Power In Organizing War

German Submarine Menace Had Forced Foodstuffs To Highest Prices of Any of Allied Nations.

By John H. Hearley
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

Rome, August 2.—Italy is just now approaching the climax of her power in the great war. Twelve months have witnessed consolidation of the Italian war machine, brilliant advances on all fronts where the Italian soldiers face the foe and fullest utilization of the Italian navy's power in the Mediterranean.

For the first time in months the muddled Italian political situation has apparently settled down, with the recent overwhelming vote of confidence in the Boselli cabinet. Italy has learned probably from England, the necessity of co-ordinated, harmonious prosecution of the war, with every ounce of her strength.

Most recent of Italy's achievements were the two offensives in the Carso and the Trentino.

Gorizia fell just a year ago and then Italy turned her eyes toward Ljubljana and Trieste. But winter gripped the fighters before plans materialized. Just before nature intervened to stop the fighting the Italians (in September) conquered the heights of Cosuogno in the Adige Valley, and consolidated and widened their positions on the Panbio. This spring on May 9 General Cadorna began where he had left off last fall—but this time with more powerful offensive arms—in men, guns and munitions. The whole left bank of the river and almost the entire rocky plateau north of Gorizia fell to his arms. Between Castagnavizza and east of Jamiano they pressed in. The lower slopes of Mount Hermada the guardians of Trieste were conquered. Trieste itself is now directly menaced from a bare twelve miles.

British guns, fired by Canadians, aided the Italians in this great offensive and Allied warships in the gulf of Trieste bombarded the Austrian coast positions.

In Trentino, a successful offensive also gained ground for Cadorna's warriors.

Official estimates now place the number of Austrian prisoners held in Italy at 155,000—and of these at least 35,000 were taken in the spring of fensives.

But while Italy has been advancing into Austria, she has been compelle gradually to abandon the hinterland of Tripolitania. Hostile Arab tribes consolidated and widened their posi-

FRIDAY EVENING, AUGUST 3, 1917

Next thing in order will be an exemption board to pass on claims for exemption from the local exemption board.

To hear some fellows talk these days one would suppose that at least six orphan children depended upon them for their daily bread.

The generosity with which our prominent ladies are supporting the hospital is indeed an encouragement to those who have labored long and hard to get support for that worthy institution.

Yesterday we learned of thieves having stolen the complete registry list of Marion county, Indiana. Had it occurred in Clearfield there would have been no great worry for the officials could have referred to recent issues of The Progress for their information.

They tell us that there will not be many candidates this season; that the legislature has cut the fees in the offices and that, together with the high cost of living, will keep many men from jumping into the fray. Maybe so but we can't see it that way. Men will run for office regardless of fees and compensation and before November rolls around we are going to see one of the grandest little political scraps we ever saw in Clearfield county.

There is a man in our town who gave nothing to the Red Cross, he refused to buy a Liberty Bond, fortunately he was above the registration age and was not called upon to perform that little service for the government. He works at an occupation that recently has benefited wonderfully by reason of governmental interference in his behalf, he enjoys the public schools of our nation, he enjoys perfect religious liberty such as he could have no other place on the globe. Just now he is telling his closest friends that "he does not believe in this war and will not support it in any way." He makes this statement in a half-hearted, patronizing manner and a few big stiffs are listening to it without making appropriate reply. Such a man is an ingrate, a peacher on the privileges of a citizen, similar to the club member who uses club privileges but will not pay his dues. It is not surprising that most men shun his society.

WHAT THE STEEL EMBARGO MEANS

The United States will control the shipping of the world during the war; after the conflict she may emerge as mistress of the seas with the greatest mercantile fleet afloat.

This became apparent yesterday when President Wilson issued an order placing an embargo on the export of steel and iron products. Every ounce of steel that might enter into the building of ships will be kept in this country after August 15th. This will effectively prevent any foreign country obtaining supplies from this country for the upbuilding of a merchant marine to dominate the seas at the close of the war.

Japan, it is believed, will suffer a heavy blow. Immense quantities of steel have been exported to the orient in recent months for use in shipbuilding. Progressive Japanese statesmen have boasted that after the war Japan would be mistress of the Pacific and also have a large share of the trade in the Atlantic. England and France two great shipbuilding countries, will suffer along with Japan.

The presidential ruling, ambiguous at first, was quickly construed by official Washington in its true meaning.

The Selective Draft

Many citizens are employing America's method of raising armies as a means of raising funds for use in emergency.

The plan is simple and efficient; review your income and select a fair proportion to be laid aside regularly as savings.

The drafting of so many dollars a week steadily accumulates, earning interest of 3 per cent a year in this institution.

Savings Accounts are invited.

The order, entitled "additional instructions to the secretary of commerce for the guidance of the division of export licenses in the future shipments of steel and explosives" superseded all previous regulations.

Daddy's Bedtime Story—

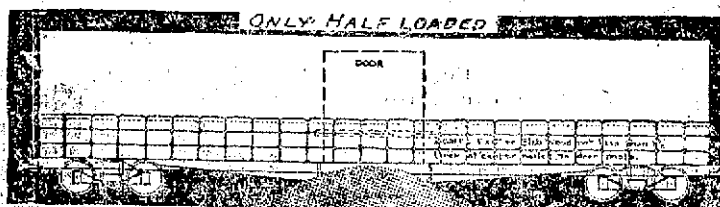

DUMMLING CUT DOWN A TREE.

There She Stuck!

[Adapted from Grimm's Fairy Tales.]
DADDY asked if anybody wanted a bedtime story, and two children clapped and clapped. So he started one with: "Two boys who thought themselves clever enough to chop wood only chopped their own feet. So when their stupid brother set out to chop wood everybody thought he was silly."
"On his way a little old man met him and asked him for a bite to eat and a drink from his bottle. 'I am very hungry and thirsty,' said he."
"And Dumpling answered: 'My mother gave me only dry bread and sour beer. But if it suits you to sit down with me we will eat it together.'"
"So Dumpling and the little old man sat down by the wayside, and when they tasted the beer it had become delightful wine."
"So they ate and drank heartily, and when they had finished the little old man said: 'You have a kind heart and have been willing to share your food with me. So I will heap a blessing upon you. There stands an old tree. Cut it down and you will find something worth while at its roots.'"
"Then like a flash he took his leave."
"Dumpling set to work like any boy much cleverer than he was always thought to be. He chopped and he heaved, first one side of the tree and then the other. At last the tree wobbled, then it swayed, and then it crashed down among the shrubbery. Dumpling, the stupid, had actually done what his two clever brothers had failed to do. He had cut down a tree. And there in the hollow at the roots of the tree Dumpling found a goose with feathers of gold."
"So Dumpling took up the goose and put it under his arm. He went to a little inn by the roadside where he hoped to rest a night before he went home, for he was quite tired, chopping so hard and long."
"Now, the landlord had three daughters. Of course they heard about the chap who had a wonderful bird and were very eager to see what the fowl might be. When they saw it they were still more eager to pull a feather out of the goose's wing."
"At last the oldest daughter cried, 'I want and will have one of those feathers!' So she waited till Dumpling had gone to sleep, and then she seized the goose by one wing. But, to her great surprise, there she stuck. Neither her fingers nor her whole hand could she pull away from the goose. It was a wonderful bird indeed!" cried daddy.
Then Jack and Evelyn hugged him good night and ran a race to bed.

SPEED SHIPMENTS OF FARM SUPPLIES

One of the three gigantic problems which the railroads are facing this year is the hauling of fertilizers, seeds and agricultural implements so that they will reach the farmers in time for fall use, and at the same time to handle rapidly the heavier freight traffic of the other industries, war supplies, munition and army equipment for the railroads.
A committee of five railroad presidents, headed by Daniel Willard, president of the Baltimore and Ohio railway, is acting as a permanent committee to direct the affairs of 175 railroads so they may give a full measure of wartime service to the industries and to the government.
The freight car shortage, which amounts to over 145,000 cars, has been due to the fact that thousands and hundreds of thousands of freight cars have been moving over the railroads with less than half a load.

Among the Allies the lowest-paid soldiers are those of Russia, who receive only one cent a day.

in the interior, backed with German-Turkish money, forced the retirement of the Italians to a thin line along the coast.

In Albania the Savevan army now occupies a strip of territory between the Adriatic and the river Vojussa to the northwest. Vullona, facing Brindisi, is the principal Italian stronghold. Italy's navy has netted or sunk in the year just past at least 40 Austrian and German submarines. British "drifters" have given valuable aid in this work. The Italian navy is just now cooperating effectively with British, Japanese and French squadrons in the Mediterranean to sweep the seas clear of enemy submarines. King Victor's sailors have given good account of themselves in the one important naval engagement of the year for Italy—that off Cattaro—although they lost heavily.

The Italian flying corps, it is estimated, has dropped 75 enemy flyers in the war. It has carried out frequent raids over Austrian ports, including Trieste.

These achievements have cost Italy approximately $43,545,200,000 in a year. Nearly $4,000,000,000 of this was spent on the army and $166,900,000 on the navy. The present monthly cost of the war is close to $255,000,000. America's financial aid has been of great service in helping Italy to meet this tremendous strain.

The German submarine campaign has resulted in sky-rocketing living prices in Italy and in considerable discomfort. The situation, however, is far from serious. The cost of living is now up nearly 64 per cent from before the war. Coal is almost prohibitive. That for ships, at seaboard is around $90 a ton. American sheep, formerly $8 and $10 cost more than $15 now. Sugar, butter and flour are rarities. Meat is scarce. But the Italian people do not appear to be suffering in the least from their deprivations.

Admittedly like voices crying in the wilderness, the Vatican organs persist in their editorial campaigns for a speedy and just peace. Directly and through his Nuncios it is reported Pope Benedict has ceaselessly worked for a termination of hostilities.

DRINK HOT WATER IF YOU DESIRE A ROSY COMPLEXION

Says we can't help but look better and feel better after an inside bath.

To look one's best and feel one's best is to enjoy an inside bath each morning to flush from the system the previous day's waste, sour fermentations and poisonous toxins before it is absorbed into the blood. Just as coal, when it burns, leaves behind a certain amount of incombustible material in the form of ashes, so the food and drink taken each day leave in the alimentary organs a certain amount of indigestible material, which if not eliminated, form toxins and poisons which are then sucked into the blood through the very ducts which are intended to suck in only nourishment to sustain the body.

If you want to see the glow of healthy bloom in your cheeks, to see your skin get clearer and clearer, you are told to drink every morning upon arising, a glass of hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it, which is a harmless means of washing he ate material and toxins from the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels thus cleansing, softening and purifying the entire alimentary tract, before putting more food into the stomach.

Men and women with sallow skin, liver spots, pimples or pallid complexion, also those who wake up with a coated tongue, bad taste, rancid breath, others who are bothered with headaches, bilious spells, acid stomach or constipation should begin this phosphate hot water drinking and are assured of very pronounced results in one or two weeks.

A quarter pound of limestone phosphate costs very little at the drug store but is sufficient to demonstrate that just as soap and hot water cleanses, purifies and freshens the skin on the outside, so hot water and limestone phosphate act on the inside organs. We must always remember that internal sanitation is vastly more important than outside cleanliness, because the skin pores do not absorb impurities into the blood, while the bowel pores do.

One American concern has supplied the Allies on the western front with 85000 miles of barbed wire. The wire is not the ordinary kind but a special military type very heavy and strong and painted the grim olive drab of war.

DATA ON AVIATION

Congressman Simon D. Fess, of Ohio, has the honor of representing the District in which is located the great Wilbur Wright aviation field, the largest of its kind in the world. He has had the privilege of witnessing some of the early experiments of the Wright brothers, and was one of the spectators of the first aeroplane trip which carried merchandise from one city to another. These facts have caused Mr. Fess to take a great interest in the heavier than air machines and have led him to make a reported study of the history of the art of flying. The result of his researches has been placed before the House in a most entertaining manner in connection with the discussion of the aviation bill recently by that body.

NORWAY OFFERS SHIPS TO AVOID STARVATION

Will Release 1,000,000 Tons For Private Importing From U.S.

Washington, D. C., Aug. 2.—Norway, facing starvation if the United States cut off exports of food, is ready to release a million tons of her shipping in return for the privilege of importing food—principally from the United States.

Dr. Fridtjof, head of the Norwegian mission to the United States, declared here today unreservedly that Norway faced starvation if the United States enforced an export embargo against her.

Dr. Nansen compared possible conditions with those existing during the Napoleonic wars, when the Danish fleet was taken by the English, and Norway was forced to side with France. He did not in any way intimate that Norway would be compelled to abandon her neutrality, but said she would maintain her present position, as Norwegians can see no possible benefit to anyone if they should take active sides.

Anxious to maintain their place in the world as a seafaring nation, a common carrier of world commerce and in order to get foodstuffs for themselves and keep their maritime flag afloat, he said, they were willing to barter ships for food.

Norway, before the war, had 3,000,000 tons of shipping; the Germans have destroyed 1,000,000; Norway now needs 1,000,000 for her own wants, and is willing to devote the remainder to the carrying needs of other countries.

What Norway needs now are fats, sugar and grain, and, as Dr. Nansen expressed it, that Norway would give a guarantee that none of these things would be sent to Germany goes without saying.

U. S. DETERMINED TO FIGHT UNTIL VICTORY COMES

No Thought of Making Move in Direction Of Peace Overtures

It was learned today that while the United States Government and Entente Powers would consider a sincere and practical peace offer from any one of the four Central Power Governments, this Government will not be misled into giving consideration to insincere proposals, and deprecates peace talk not based on practical lines.

The United States is not thinking of making a move in the direction of peace. The higher officials of the Government believe that any step in this direction would be misunderstood in Germany and would do more harm than good. As a matter of fact, in none of the pronouncements of German or Austrian statesmen have American officials found anything that warrants them in regarding the feelers that have been put out by Berlin and Vienna as being genuine, sincere or practical.

The United States Government is going ahead steadily with its plans for winning the war, and officials here, from President Wilson down, are concerning themselves chiefly with the defeat of Germany. Meanwhile official Washington is opposed to the official discussion of peace. One reason is the fact that Germany has charged that the United States is a money-grabbing, commercial nation, helpless to conduct successfully the war, and for the United States at this time to start a discussion of peace before it has had time to demonstrate that it is a nation willing to fight for democratic ideals would be misinterpreted in Germany as a confession of weakness and lack of will to carry through the war.

RESTLESS LABOR INVITING WRATH

Government Will Take Drastic Action If Disturbance in West Do Not Cease

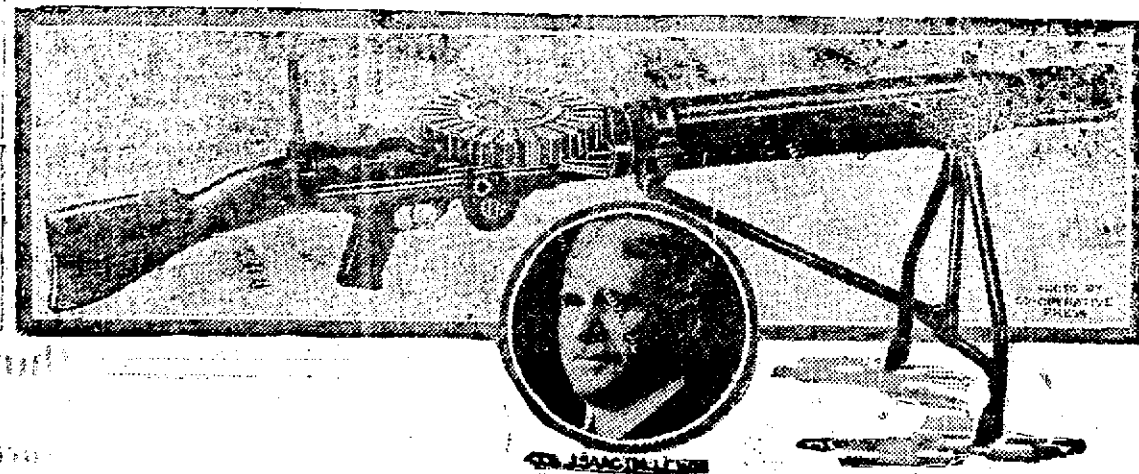

Washington, D. C., Aug. 2.—Drastic action by the Government to meet the labor disturbances in the West and Southwest, which officials are sure have been stirred up by German propaganda, will be taken if the situation shows any growth.

Intention of Government to call out the United States Army should the Government not intervene on behalf of the Industrial Workers of the World in labor disputes in certain sections of the West have resulted in the Department of Justice undertaking a broad general inquiry.

The inquiry has not yet reached the stage where definite action has been formulated, but officials assert that nothing possible will be left undone to prevent the tie-up of industries deemed vital in the conduct of the war.

Thousand of These Being Built For American Troops In France

Thousands of these rapid-fire guns invented by Colonel Lewis have been ordered by the war department for use of the American troops in France. For years Colonel Lewis has been trying to convince ordnance authorities in Washington his gun was the best made, but not until the British and French armies used them could he convince Americans. Now they will form the chief weapon of attack and defense for the Americans in the trenches.

Goebel Suffered Great Pain Which Averted Him Nothing Toward Recovery

There are scores of residents of Erie who are familiar with the condition of Louis Goebel the well known carpenter and all have sympathized sincerely with him in his sufferings. Mr. Goebel exhibited an ugly cross-like scar on the outer surface of his abdomen.

"That is what he surgeons did for me. I as in the hospital for three months. They thought I had gall stones in my bladder, and I was told that the inflammation substances had overflowed to my stomach.

"They operated on me. Yes sir, cut me open, and after all of that suffering I had no results from the operation.

"I have been unable to work for a long time. Nearly everybody who knows me knows that I am telling the gospel truth. Yes sir, this Tanlac has done what the knife couldn't do for me. I have eased one single bottle of Tanlac and I feel like a new man. I am improving every day, getting my strength back. I expect to continue taking this Tanlac and I'm going back to work soon. This Tanlac has done more for me than everything else combined, and I have taken, I guess, barrels of medicine. It's certainly like a miracle."

Tanlac is now old here by Woodward & McPherson.

MRS. KATHERINE LANIONS

Mrs. Katherine Lanions, widow of John Lanions died of paralysis after an illness of 18 months. She was almost entirely helpless and her sufferings were great yet she endured them with Christian patience and hope of a better world.

She was born June 9, 1845 and died August 2, 1917 at 6:00 p. m. aged 72 years and 23 days. After her husband's death, she made her home with her daughter Mrs. Harry Couder, of Clearfield. Mrs. Couder also preceded her to the grave about 2 years and 2 months. She leaves to mourn one sister, Mrs. Maggie Murr, of Lancaster, Pa., one brother George Erb, of Strasburg, Pa., a son in law Harry Couder and the following grand children: Chester, Veryl, Ethel, Bernard and Luther Couder, all of Clearfield.

The deceased was a consistent member of the Eleventh Street M. E. church and was a highly respected Christian woman. There will be a short funeral service held at the home of Harry Couder on Daisy street at 8:00 o'clock this evening, conducted by Rev. B. J. Hummel in the absence of her pastor, Rev. Collins. The body will be taken to Strasburg, Lancaster county, her former home community, where the regular funeral service will be held, and interment made by the side of her husband. The funeral party will leave on the 8:15 train tomorrow morning.

LETTER ENDORSING DR. M. BONE EUROPEAN EYE SPECIALIST

Grampian Pa.
August 1, 1917

To Whom It May Concern:

I have been suffering nervous headaches eye trouble and was a complete wreck and I had been wearing glasses for sixteen years before last February when I consulted Dr. Bone, and got glasses from him.

It was a miracle to me when Dr. Bone told me that I would get my strength and health and weight in three months and, in three months after I began to wear my glasses, I felt better every day. My eye trouble, nervousness and headaches are all gone and I have gained 35 pounds up to this date and am in perfect health again.

My neighbors have purchased glasses of Dr. Bone and they are all boasting of their glasses.

Yours truly,

(Signed) Mrs. William Norris.
N. B. Dr. Bone will be at the Allegheny House all day Saturday, Room 7.

TWO WINBURNE MEN AT OFFICER'S RESERVE

John Banzer and Roy Collins, of Winburne, took the examination for the Officer's Reserve Training camp last Tuesday, and both were admitted. They are both married the former having one child. They expect to go into training August 27th. Mr. Banzer has served a term in the U. S. Marines, while Mr. Collins has served a term in the U. S. Cavalry. They both enjoy being under Uncle Sam's service. They are industrious young men and have the best wishes of their many friends.

FORMER WOODLAND GIRL DEAD

Wilma Ross Gance, nee Wilma Ross, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Ross of Ambridge, Pa., and formerly of Woodland, died at 9 a. m. on Wednesday night. According to telephone advice reaching relatives here the body will be brought to Woodland on the 5:30 P. R. train this evening and burial will be immediately made in the Bradford cemetery.

KAISER BILL

He is dreaming, only dreaming. Tell old Kaiser Bill for me. If he thinks his Uncle Sammy isn't coming over the sea.

We are coming; yes, we're coming. With Jack Pershing in command: We'll show the Kaiser, who is crazy. That no "bull" from him we'll stand.

You started, Bill, this ruthless warfare—The worst the world has ever seen: You've made war on wife and children, Sinking boats with your submarine.

You used to shower us with glory, But now the glory's turned to hate: When we recall the things you've done us, Upon the nerves they grind and grate.

Oh, Kaiser Bill, oh, how I hate you—You will wake some day to tell That the things you've planned and plotted Have every one been shot to hell.

You are just a poor, weak monarch; Take an old fool's tip from me—The world you started out to conquer Is larger than your Germany.

When your submarine war is ended—Take an old fool's tip from me—The world you started out to conquer Is larger than your Germany.

You will see Old Glory waving From the trenches, Kaiser Bill, Just as when in years it floated Over Valley Forge and Bunker Hill.

When the Liberty Bell rings freedom And the whole world starts to shout, Oh, Kaiser Bill, you've cut your fill—We're here to surely count you out.

Honest, Willie, I'm not fooling—This is all I'm going to say: You had better cut your shoestrings And be on your little way.

HAD A NARROW ESCAPE

Mail carrier David Whaling and Contractor Ashley Rishel had a close call at the Nichols street crossing of the B. R. & P. railroad early this morning. They were coming over to town in Mr. Whaling's car and as the morning was quite foggy failed to see a New York Central coal train attempting to negotiate the crossing at the time they arrived there. The machine as squarely on the track when the nose of the engine appeared suddenly out of the fog not more than six feet distant. It was too late to back up and Mr. Whaling threw his wide open and the car leaped from the track just as the pilot of the engine grazed the tire on the rear wheel.

There have been several recent narrow escapes at this crossing and now that the New York Central is diverting so much extra tonnage this way since annulling the regular passenger service from the River Line it would be well to have gates and watchmen placed at both the Nichols and West Market street railroad crossings. Action in this matter should be taken before some person meets with serious accident or possibly death.

Lemons Beautify!

Strain lemon juice well before mixing and massage face, neck, arms, hands.

Here is told how to prepare an inexpensive lemon lotion which can be used to bring to any skin the sweet freshness, softness, whiteness and beauty.

The juice of two fresh lemons strained into a bottle containing three ounces of orchard white makes a whole quart pint of the most remarkable lemon skin beautifier at the cost one must pay for a small jar of ordinary cold creams. Care should be taken to strain the lemon pulp through a fine cloth so no lemon pulp gets in, then this lotion will keep fresh for months. Every woman knows that lemon juice is used to bleach and remove such blemishes as freckles, sallowness and tan, and is the ideal skin softener, smoothen and beautifier.

Just try it! Get three ounces of orchard white at any pharmacy and two lemons from the grocer and make up a quart pint of this sweetly fragrant lemon lotion and massage it daily into the face, neck, arms and hands, and see for yourself.

SUNDAY SCHOOL

Lesson VI.—Third Quarter, For Aug. 5, 1917.

THE INTERNATIONAL SERIES.

Text of the Lesson, II Chron. xxxiii, 1-20—Memory Verses, 12, 13—Golden Text, Isa. lv, 7—Commentary Prepared by Rev. D. M. Stearns.

There are so many things in the affairs of this world which we cannot understand that we can only find rest in remembering that the Lord liveth, and He is not discouraged, and He shall finally subdue all things unto Himself. It therefore becomes us to rest in the Lord and wait patiently for Him (Isa. xlii, 4; Rev. xvii, 14; Pa. xxxvii, 7; Phil. iii, 10, 21). That Ahaz should be such a wicked king, Hezekiah, his son, such a good king and Manasseh, his son, such a monster of iniquity is surely a strange sequence of events which I certainly do not profess to begin to understand, but I rest in Him who foresees and overrules all things. There is something worthy of prayerful consideration in the fact that Hezekiah had fifteen years added to his life after his serious illness (Isa. xxxviii, 5), but did not render to God for this extension of time as he should have done (II Chron. xxxii, 25).

Manasseh must have been born about three years after that illness, as he was twelve years old when he began to reign (xxix, 1), and the question presents itself, Was it a real blessing to Hezekiah to have his life thus prolonged? When we are determined to have our own way God sometimes indulges us, even though He knows it is not the best thing for us, as when He gave Israel their request, but sent leanness into their soul (Pa. cix, 15). Another once told me that when her two boys were very young they were sick unto death, but she would not give them up, and God let them live. But they grew up to give her a broken heart. Whole hearted submission to the perfect will of God is the better way. Contrast the Lord Jesus at the age of twelve about His Father's business and returning to the lowly home at Nazareth, there to be subject to Mary for the next eighteen years (Luke ii, 42-52).

Manasseh's reign was the longest of any of the kings of Judah, fifty-five years, and part of it was the very worst, according to the record in lesson verses 8-10. He wrought much evil in the sight of the Lord and caused Judah and Jerusalem to err and to do worse than the heathen whom the Lord had destroyed before the children of Israel, and though the Lord spake to him and to his people, they would not hearken (verses 2, 6, 9, 10). He was surely controlled by the devil during that part of his reign.

The Lord permitted the kings of Assyria to take him and bind him and carry him to Babylon and there in his affliction he humbled himself greatly before God and prayed unto Him, and God heard him and brought him again to Jerusalem and to his kingdom. Then he knew that Jehovah was God (verses 11-13). In the Apocrypha there is a prayer recorded as his, part of which is: "Thou, O Lord, according to Thy great goodness, hast promised repentance and forgiveness to them that have sinned against Thee. . . . I have sinned above the number of the sands of the sea; . . . I have set up abominations and have multiplied offenses. O Lord, I have sinned, and I acknowledge mine iniquities, wherefore, I humbly beseech Thee, forgive me, O Lord, forgive me, and destroy me not with mine iniquities."

Whatever his actual prayer was, God, who reads the heart, saw that he was sincere and abundantly pardoned him, according to Isa. lv, 7. Whatever encouragement there is in this and in the conversion of Saul of Tarsus and of the penitent thief for any and every sinner, however great, to turn to the Lord, for He came to save sinners, and His word ever stands: "Him that cometh to me I will in nowise cast out" (John vi, 37). He is not willing that any should perish and has no pleasure in the death of the wicked (II Pet. iii, 9; Ezek. xxxiii, 11). His cry to sinners is, Look unto me and be saved; incline your ear and come unto me, hear and your soul shall live. And to His own who have wandered He cries: O that they were wise, that they would consider their latter end! O that my people had hearkened unto me and Israel had walked in my ways! (Isa. xlv, 22; lv, 3; Deut. xxxii, 29; Pa. lxxxi, 13). When restored to Jerusalem and to his kingdom he endeavored to right some of the wrongs he had done and to bring forth fruits meet for repentance. He offered peace offerings and thank offerings unto the Lord and commanded Judah to serve the Lord God of Israel (verses 14-17).

Such a change in such a man must have impressed many and turned many to the Lord, but we shall see as we go on in our lessons that the turning of the people away from God was very desperate, and it was not long until Judah was carried into captivity for her sins. The turning away from God and His word to our day is as God foretold that it would be (II Tim. iii, 1-5; lv, 3; II Pet. iii, 3, 4; Luke xviii, 26-30). But He will build His church and take her to Himself and bring her back with Him in glory, and Israel shall then welcome Him and they shall never be unrighteous any more; but shall be a blessing to all nations, and the earth shall be filled with His glory through Israel. His chosen messengers, according to Pa. lxxvii.

FAMOUS KILTIES SEEK RECRUITS IN THE BUSY STREETS OF CHICAGO

Kilties from the Forty-eighth Highlanders, the Scotch Canadian regiment of Toronto, Ontario, which has earned enduring fame for its part in the war, are marching the streets of Chicago this week, as part of the drive for recruits for the Allied armies which has been organized and carried through by Colonel John S. Dennis, commanding the Western Division, British Recruiting Mission, with the cooperation of Captain Franklin R. Kenny, U. S. A., in charge of recruiting for the Chicago district.

Two hundred Highlanders with their regimental band and their pipers parade the streets every day, and the "skirl" of the pipes is heard above the din of the city and the traffic cop's whistle. It is only part of the program, however, to stir enthusiasm and bring recruits to the recruiting stations. The Forty-eighth Highlanders have been in the war from the very beginning, going overseas as the Fifteenth Canadian Battalion in the First Division, and fighting through St. Julien, Festubert, Courcellette, the Somme, and Vimy Ridge. Since the British Recruiting Mission opened western headquarters in Chicago, a number of Chicago men have joined this now famous regiment. Britons and Canadians of military age resident in the United States are estimated by Colonel Dennis at 500,000. Until the British Mission was given permission by Congress to recruit in this country, it was necessary for a man to pay his own way to Canada for examination, with the chance of being rejected after he got there. More than 4,000 did go, but now a man may be examined and accepted at the nearest recruiting depot either of the United States army or of the British Mission, and his pay begins the day he "signs on."

was on the frontier, at Forts Sisseton, Lincoln, Russell, Custer and other military posts in Montana, Wyoming and the Dakotas. In 1890-91 he participated in the Pine Ridge campaign against the Sioux Indians.

Other subsequent duties included service in the Cuban campaign of 1898, in which he participated in the battle of El Caney, and was in the trenches before Santiago until the surrender. In 1899 he went to the Philippines, where he was engaged in active operations against insurgents in Luzon.

General Mann took part in engagements with the Filipino insurgents in the Island of Panay and the Island of Pombon. He was inspector general, department of Visayas, and supervisor of internal revenue and served as adjutant of the 17th infantry.

Returning to the United States he served at Fort Porter and Fort Niagara, N. Y., and conducted the department of infantry rifle competition in 1902. In 1903 he was again assigned to duty in the Philippines, where he served as chief of staff, department of the Visayas.

He was assistant chief of staff, division of the Philippines, and afterward went on duty at the war college in this city and at the naval war college at Newport. He was on duty in Havana, Cuba as assistant to the chief of staff of the expedition there in 1906, and was later chief of staff of the army of Cuban pacification. For a time he was in command of the 6th Infantry and the post of Fort William Henry Harrison, Mont. For many months prior to his appointment to his present post as chief of the bureau of military affairs was in command of the 2nd brigade on the Mexican border.

LITTLE SIDELIGHTS ON THE BIG WAR

Included in the Russian army is a division called the Corps de Chasseurs, of which little is known outside the service. They are picked men, chosen for various reasons, and include not only the men of best education but also the best runners, sharpshooters, fencers, swimmers, sappers, fishers and hunters. As pioneers, they build bridges across the broadest and fastest rivers of Russia. As hunters and fishermen, they provide the army with game and fish. They are under a strict and special discipline, but they are not obliged to march in line, are free from barrack service and are excused sentinel duty.

THOSE IN CAST OF

"PIDGIN ISLAND"

"Pidgin Island" the forthcoming Metro wonderplay, in which the favorite stars, Harold Lockwood and May Allison, appear, and which will be seen at the Globe theatre tomorrow has an unusually strong cast.

To Lester Cunao is entrusted the important part of Donald, the son of the smuggler, Michael Smead. Mr. Cunao has a great reputation for versatility. A stage career preceded the actor's advent into pictures.

Lillian Hayward is a favorite player. She was seen as Mrs. Themaine in "Big Tremaine."

Fred Wilson, the "Uncle Billy" of "Pidgin Island" is one of the best known men in motion pictures having played a long series of excellent parts.

"Pidgin Island" is replete with scenes of strength and interest in which these fascinating characters take part.

SOME COINCIDENCES

The late Gen. Pierre G. T. Beauregard has been let in for a little posthumous attention recently which brings to mind two episodes in his career. One of the commandments for the new national army has been given his name, thus recalling his activities as an officer on the Confederate armies. And the selective draft was made by a method which inevitably gave rise to reflections of the Louisiana Lottery, of which Gen. Beauregard was a high and highly-paid official during his later life.

Smyth is not able to get away from the Smiths, anyway you look at it. He left Brooklyn and one Smith only to join more Smiths in St. Louis.

New York, New Haven and Hartford. New York is leading the National league and New Haven is first and Hartford is last in the Eastern league.

RESULTS COUNT!

An Ounce of Performance Is Worth a Ton of Promise

Goldine Gives Results—Can You Doubt It After Reading the Following Statement?

Goldine Gives Results! That is what Mr. Perry Phillips, 422 Third Ave., Williamsport, thinks about the marvel medicine.

Mr. Phillips while recently at the Goldine agency said: "I came after two more bottles of that Goldine." It is the first medicine I ever found that does actually produce results. I have had stomach trouble for over two years, and have doctored and tried almost every medicine known, but this Goldine is the only thing that ever helped me.

"My catarrh was so bad that I had a constant ringing noise in my head, and was getting quiet deaf from it. I couldn't sleep at night, because when I would lay down the mucus would drop in my throat and choke me.

Goldine is working a miracle in my case. I felt benefited right from the first dose; it stopped that ringing noise in my head and my stomach is in good condition. Why I can eat a good meal without any bad after effects. I am feeling better than I have in years.

"It is truly a great medicine and if any body doubts this statement just send them to me."

Goldine can be secured at Stewart's Drug store where they will be glad to explain for which each remedy is intended.

"Goldine" Memorize the name.

Still frocks frills and filets
Ooh! in for a mention

Lace, lace lace! This isn't an admonition to pull your corset strings unduly. It is simply a general description of the most paramount detail of feminine fixings at the present moment. Lace these days means only one kind of lace, too, and that's filet.

You know it's the kind with the square mesh like a modified Fane fence. It's all on the square anyway and has floral designs sprouting over it like vines on a trellis or else as male caving over its cross bars like the June bug, and bird size mosquitos on our serried front porch.

The real home-steadiness of the filet is of course the hand-made kind, to acquire whose square meshed lengths crumple you in debt to great lengths.

Dainty edging of the hand-made filet finishes collars and cuffs of the most exquisite lingerie waists as well as the fingered frocks of Georgette, organdie or handkerchief linen and elaborate insets and insertion, narrow or wide, garnish them to their fill with filet.

Boudoir caps of the corner meshed imitation filet are most attractive and one made from a yard length of very wide all over filet edging is simple and seductive. The lace is seamed together and gathered at the apex. It has a crush of wide satin ribbon holding it in closely around the headsize. The ribbon is set on about two inches above the lacy edge which is left to flop softly around the face. The cap of cross-bar mesh is guaranteed to screen effectively a multitude of hair curlers.

Cuff and collar sets of real or imitation filet have all the fairest feminines around the throat and wrists. Indeed a collar of any other lace save filet is spurned with great choler.

Handkerchiefs of the mode and the moment are bordered with the finest and narrowest filet edge and veils though naturally not of the linen thread ape the filet lace in motive and mesh.

Though on the surface of things you would imagine all the filet was in full view judging from its prevalence there is also a great abundance under cover or at least partially so. It is most popular for lingerie garnishing and edges and trims wash satin, muslin, crepe de chine or Georgette chemises, nighties, petticoats and under-vests in impartial perfection.

That essential garment known mysteriously in Paris as a "cache corset" and equally mysteriously in London as a "car" we designate more seriously as a corset cover or an under-vest and by any name know it to be most lovely when made of all over filet lace and strung with shell pink satin ribbon.

Filet has even invaded the hearth and home as well as our personal apparel appointments, not only it is omnipresent richly encrusting table linen, lunch cloths, dinner cloths, luncheon sets and napkins but it has the guest towels, face towels and even the bath towels in its meshes.

Filet crochet done in insertion and edging is used for towel trimming and crochet filet squares showing an initial or a monogram are set in with stunning results. All the feminine hands got busily wielding knitting needles of amber or bone on socks and sweaters for sailors and soldiers are busy chaffing bone or steel crochet hooks through the mazes of filet mesh for bathroom embellishment.

I spreads of the filet lace squares in conjunction with embroidered ones have always been the last word in bedside perfection as have curtain and dresser and toilet-table scarfs and lingerie pillow tops. Some brave and undaunted souls are even turning out beautiful bedspreads of filet crochet. You can do the same if you don't care what you do and aren't a subscriber to the popular opinion that life is short and time is fleeting.

Even the children cannot escape the craze for filet and aside from the regulation filet edgings and insertions on their garments they attack the daily bowl of cereal from behind the brave front of an enveloping heavy linen bib inset with a square of filet crochet showing anything in the animal kingdom from a rampant tiger to a peaceful lambkin or a soft eyed mooly cow.

The men as yet have escaped the favorite filet but they had best beware or they will be snared within its squared mesh yet.

At least they as well as everyone are ready to concede that filet's fine for filices.

The significance of the insignia of rank on a clothing of United States officers has been explained as follows: The oak-leaf is worn by a captain and the poplar-leaf by a major because the poplar grows taller than the oak. The eagle signifies a colonel because the eagle soars above the poplar. The stars are for generals because the eagle looks toward the stars which shine over.

Some Observations.

Beauty may be only skin deep, but a lot of fellows can't see through it. The reason so many people kill time is because time never puts up a roller. There isn't much to the fellow who doesn't get mad enough to fight once in a while.

To live a decent life is not all that is necessary; a man can be decent and not be particularly useful.

Beauty may be only skin deep, but a lot of fellows can't see through it. The reason so many people kill time is because time never puts up a roller. There isn't much to the fellow who doesn't get mad enough to fight once in a while.

To live a decent life is not all that is necessary; a man can be decent and not be particularly useful.

The bees have a way of dealing with the drones. When food gets scarce they kick them out of the hive.

The man who thinks he knows it all is always running into something that wasn't in the book when he studied it. Of all the foolish notions in the world the notion that you can avoid war by getting married is the foolish-

The great trouble with this world is that too many people are leaving it to somebody else to keep them out of trouble.

Better the fellow who brags about the kind deeds that he has done than the fellow who keeps his mouth shut because he has never done anything for anyone else to brag about.

Another "fade out" in the picture. A year - the Yankees were leading league.

"TIZ"—A JOY TO SORE, TIRED FEET

Use "Tiz" for aching, burning, swollen feet and corns or calluses.

Good-bye, sore feet, burning, swollen feet, tender feet, tired feet. Good-bye, corns, callouses, blisters and raw spots. No more limping, no more limping with pain, drawing up your face in agony. "Tiz" is magical, acts right off, draws out all the poisonous elements which puff up the feet. Use "Tiz" and wear smaller shoes. Use "Tiz" and forget your foot misery. Ah how comfortable your feet feel. Get a 25-cent box of "Tiz" now at any drugstore or department store. Don't suffer! Have good feet, glad feet, feet that never swell, never hurt, never get tired. A year's foot comfort guaranteed or money refunded.
